Brief Biosocial Gambling Screen

During the past 12 months, have you become restless, irritable, or anxious when trying to stop / cut down on gambling?

During the past 12 months, have you tried to keep your family or friends from knowing how much you gambled?

During the past 12 months did you have such financial trouble as a result of your gambling that you had to get help with living expenses from family, friends, or welfare?

An answer "yes" to any of the questions may indicate a problem with gambling.

The American Gaming Association (AGA) and its members prioritize responsible gaming as an integral part of our industry's daily operations. We are pleased to announce Responsible Gaming Education Week (RGEW) from September 15-21, 2019 and release new resources for participating. RGEW brings together industry, advocacy, regulator and other key stakeholders to promote transparency and gaming literacy while showcasing our everyday commitment to responsible gaming.

Educating and engaging the public about responsible gaming is on all of us. We look forward to bringing our voices together for a successful #RGEW19 in September.

Feel free to reach out to Elizabeth Cronan, Senior Director of Gaming Policy and Cait DeBaun, Senior Director of Strategic Communications with any RGEW questions or feedback.

New Toolkit Materials

As you prepare for RGEW, AGA will be introducing new, easy-to-use resources to provide ideas and inspiration. Start by considering these important RGEW audiences:

- Employees serve as the front line for responsible gaming efforts. Use RGEW to reenergize your training efforts and empower employees with the knowledge and tools to foster responsible gaming.
- Responsible gaming efforts help customers make informed choices about their gambling. RGEW provides the opportunity to promote transparency and gaming literacy by educating customers about the odds of games and prospects of winning.
- Consider opportunities during RGEW to work with nonprofit partners in your community and highlight your organization's responsible gaming efforts.

Find specific ideas for each audience along with key messages, research and a sample quiz on the RGEW event page. In the coming weeks, AGA will also introduce a sample newsletter, social media posts and more.
